BALL

LOR STADIUM

Now in its seventh full season, Robert E. Taylor Stadium remains one of the premier softball facilities in the nation. The $3 million structure is a state-of-the-art athletic facility that serves as the Terps' home field and has played host to the ACC Tournament twice in the last six years, including 2008. This spring Taylor Stadium will be the site of the Maryland Round Robin (March 7-8) and Maryland Invitational (March 13-15).

FACILITY AMENITIES

- Stadium seating for more than 1,000 fans
- Underground dugouts with restrooms
- Two bullpen areas
- Four batting cages
- Light towers
- Concessions area
- Ticket booth
- Enclosed press box
- Natural Bermuda grass outfield
- Electronic scoreboard
- Ample parking

Taylor Stadium sits adjacent to Comcast Center on the north side of campus, where Maryland basketball, wrestling, volleyball and gymnastics competitions take place. Student-athletes have access to locker room and weight-training facilities, athletics department offices and the academic support and career development center.

Remarkably, opening day for Taylor Stadium featured a Maryland no-hitter in a game on April 10, 2002, against local rival Towson. Amanda Bettker, who owns Maryland's second-best career ERA (1.61), fanned seven batters en route to her first complete game no-hitter and a 7-0 win for the Terps.

Since that inaugural game in April of 2002, the Terrapins have compiled a 95-35 overall record in games played at Taylor Stadium, including a 22-7 mark in 2008.

SEASON OUTLOOK

TERRAPINS RELOAD IN HOPES OF CONTINUING UPWARD TREND IN 2009

Like a baserunner rounding the diamond with keen determination and an eye on home plate, the Maryland softball team has progressed steadily under head coach Laura Watten and her staff, advancing closer toward obtaining the program's ultimate goal with each passing season.

Continual improvement has defined Watten's first three years in College Park. From 32 to 33 to 36 wins, the Terrapins have upped their victory total in each of the last three seasons en route to laying claim to the third-winningest season in program history, as well as a school-record win streak, in 2008.

Consequently, the Terps enter their 2009 campaign in scoring position – seemingly poised to continue their pursuit of an NCAA Tournament bid. Yet fulfillment of that goal will not come easy for a squad that must contend with major graduation losses and a challenging slate of 53 regular-season games.

The 2009 edition of Terrapins softball features a youth movement of sorts, as the team boasts just three seniors (Sarah Dooley, Breanna Shaw and Devon Williams) and welcomes 10 newcomers (five freshmen, four transfers and one walk-on) in hopes of compensating for the loss of nine letterwinners from 2008.

Offensive leaders Jenny Belak, Brittany Bessho and Sarde Stewart, as well as pitching ace Meredith Nelles, are gone from last season's squad that reeled off a 16-game winning streak and achieved rankings in both national polls for the first time in nine years. Still, there remains reasons for optimism the Terps can continue their climb up the improvement ladder in 2009.

"We were hit pretty hard by graduation, but I like the way our team is shaping up for this season," Watten said of her 18-member squad. "We have a nice blend of talented returning players and promising new players who should all contribute toward our success."

PITCHING

Despite the loss of Nelles, pitching should represent an area of strength for Maryland in 2009 thanks in large part to Dooley, a product of Golf Coast Community College in Panama City, Fla. During her first season adorning a Terrapin uniform in 2008, Dooley emerged as the anchor of the pitching rotation, leading the squad in wins (16) and strikeouts (179), while logging the fourth-most innings (206.1) in a single season in team history.

Dooley returns for her senior year a seasoned veteran occupying a leadership role and will likely toe the rubber in big games for the Terps.

"Sarah showed a lot of toughness and determination with her performance last season," Watten said. "She has a quiet personality off the field, but when she gets on the mound she pitches with great intensity. She's such a smart pitcher, and we are expecting a lot from her this season."

Maryland's dual-purpose threat, pitcher/utility player Kerry Hickey, excelled for the Terps last season both at the plate at on the mound, where she posted a 4-0 record with a 2.48 ERA. She led the team with 16 relief appearances as a freshman in 2008, and could be called upon either to start games or to provide relief from the bullpen this season. At the plate last season Hickey batted .292 with 45 hits, four home runs and 31 RBIs – each of which leads Maryland's returnees.

KERRY HICKEY

DEVON WILLIAMS

ALEX SCHULTZ

"Kerry performed exceptionally in both her roles last season, and we will continue to rely on her to contribute to our team in many ways," Watten said. "She's developed so quickly it's easy to forget she's only entering her second collegiate season."

Freshman Kendra Knight, a highly-touted recruit from Salem High School in Virginia Beach, Va., rounds out Maryland's 2009 pitching rotation. The hard-throwing right-hander garnered all-region and all-state honors in 2008, averaging nearly 15 strikeouts per game during her final prep season.

CATCHING

Following the graduation of Brittany Bessho, who started all but five games behind the plate last season and finished her career as the team's all-time leader in batting average (.315), the Terps are looking for a pair of transfers to assume catching duties in 2009. Junior Lydia Fowler and sophomore Jennifer Anderson both had productive junior college careers prior to transferring to Maryland.

Fowler came to College Park by way of Indian River Community College in Fort Pierce, Fla., where she garnered All-Southern Conference honors last season. Indiana Tech product Anderson started at catcher during her first collegiate season, batting .340 with 15 doubles and 30 RBIs for the Warriors.

Brittany Murphy, a freshman who played every inning of every game during her prep career, adds another option behind the plate.

INFIELD

Maryland's infield returns three starters from 2008, including a pair of seniors in Williams and Shaw. Having already played in 144 games as a Terp during the first three years of her career, Williams represents the team's most-tenured player. The Terps' third baseman enters her senior campaign having improved her batting average by at least 36 points in both of the previous two seasons, and she paces the team's returnees with her on-base percentage (.372) from last year.

The latest in a pipeline of successful Bethune-Cookman College-to-Maryland transfers under Watten, Shaw demonstrated her ability to hit for power last season by having 12 of her 40 hits account for extra bases. She started 39 games at second base, 17 at third base and one at shortstop a year ago.

Fellow returnee Alex Schultz started 53 games at shortstop in 2008, setting career highs in most offensive categories. As a sophomore last year, she led the team in hit by pitches (14) and demonstrated excellent range in the field, tallying a team-high 106 assists along with 77 putouts.

"Breanna, Devon and Alex give us a lot of stability and versatility in our infield," Watten said. "Each contributed a great deal last season, and in the case of Devon and Alex, they have been doing so for several seasons. We need that trio to lead our team onto the field this year."

Sophomore Krista Gould, who saw time at both second base and shortstop last season, provides depth for the Maryland infield. Gould served as the team's top substitute in 2008, entering 30 games off the bench.

In addition to the returning players, several new faces could occupy the infield this season. A trio of transfers – junior Nadine Blackie (Pensacola Junior College), sophomore Marisha Branson (Central Missouri) and freshman Kathy McLaughlin (Towson) will vie for playing time this season with the Terps.

OUTFIELD

Redshirt sophomore Niki Lau represents the team's lone returning starter in the outfield. Lau, who made all 56 of her starts in center field in 2008, ranked third on the team in both runs (26) and stolen bases (eight) last season.

The corner outfield positions will likely be occupied by a combination of players in 2009. Candidates for those spots include sophomore Lauren Ghent, a walk-on who served as one of the team's top defensive substitutes and pinch runners last season, and several newcomers, including Blackie.

Freshmen outfielders Vangie Galindo and Michelle Takeda both arrive at Maryland from California boasting strong credentials. Galindo, who played outfield for Etiwanda High School in Etiwanda, Calif., earned all-county honors as a senior and set her school's record with 32 career stolen bases. Playing for a high school located just 35 miles southwest of Galindo's school, Takeda earned three varsity letters, helping El Dorado High School finish the 2006 season as state runners-up.

"Our infield is a bit more settled than our outfield this season, so we need some players to emerge for us in left and right field," Watten said. "Right now there are plenty of possibilities in the outfield, but ideally some candidates for those positions will start to distinguish themselves in the coming weeks."

Junior Kailyn Cage could see action at various positions this season for Watten and her staff, which consists of assistant coaches Alissa Smith (fourth season at Maryland) and Courtney Scott (first season). Cage has a background in track & field and should add speed on the basepaths for the Terps.

SCHEDULE

Maryland's 2009 schedule calls for 24 matchups with 14 opponents who made the 2008 NCAA Tournament, and the Terps face nine foes whom were ranked in the final 2008 USA Today/ NFCA Softball Collegiate Top 25.

"My staff and I are excited about the competition that awaits our team in 2009," Watten said. "We have a young but talented team, and we have compiled a schedule that will challenge our players to grow and develop throughout the season."

The Terps open the season Feb. 6 at the Florida Atlantic Kickoff Classic in Boca Raton, Fla., against 2008 NCAA Tournament participant UMass. The FAU Tournament also features a showdown with 2008 NCAA Super Regional qualifier Michigan, whom Maryland beat for the first time last season.

Maryland then heads to Palm Springs, Calif., for the prestigious Cathedral City Classic from Feb. 19-22. There, the Terps will face several formidable opponents, including UCLA, a participant in the 2008 Women's College World Series.

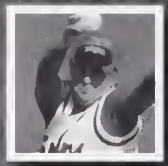
A five-game stretch at the Stetson University Tournament in Deland, Fla., starting Feb. 27 precedes the Maryland Round Robin, which welcomes Dartmouth, Manhattan and Gardner Webb to College Park. Following their official home opener March 11 against Towson, the Terps play host to the Maryland Invitational, which includes Seton Hall, Delaware, Fordham, Mount St. Mary's and Howard.

The Terps commence Atlantic Coast Conference play and an eight-game homestand with a weekend series versus North Carolina March 21-22. That series marks the first of four three-game sets pitting Maryland against conference opponents in College Park, as NC State, Boston College and Georgia Tech also visit Taylor Stadium.

In its 2009 conference road schedule, Maryland makes trips to Virginia, Florida State and Virginia Tech, which won the ACC Championship last season.

Other non-conference games slated for 2009 include home games against NCAA Tournament teams Northwestern and Hofstra, as well as George Washington and Penn State.

Following the conclusion of the regular season, Maryland travels to Raleigh, N.C., for the 2009 ACC Tournament (May 7-10). Last season's tournament champion, Virginia Tech, ultimately advanced to the NCAA College World Series.



HEAD COACH LAURA WATTEN

FOURTH SEASON AT MARYLAND • 12TH OVERALL
TEXAS-ARLINGTON '92

During her first three seasons on the job, Laura Watten has brought a dynamic new energy to the Maryland softball program. The fourth-year Terrapin mentor has transformed the culture surrounding the Maryland program and brought an exciting brand of softball to Robert E. Taylor Stadium. The Terps have improved their win total in each of Watten's three seasons and rewritten the school record books in the process.

None of it should be surprising, though. Watten's way is the "can-do" way, and it is precisely the approach the coach has taken in her quest to drive Maryland's softball program to national prominence. Hired just prior to the start of the 2005-06 academic year, Watten has worked extensively to elevate all aspects of the program – recruiting, scheduling, student-athlete development – in an effort to put the Terps in a position to succeed on a national scale.

If Watten's past success and the results in her first three years at Maryland are indicators, the Terps are well on their way to making their mark.

The 2008 campaign saw Watten's Terps post the third-highest win total (36) in team history, including a school-record 16-game winning streak early in the season. Maryland used a blazing 19-1 start to achieve national rankings in both the ESPN.com/USA Softball Collegiate Top 25 and the USA Today/NFCA Division I Top 25 polls for the first time since 1999. Seniors Sarde Stewart and Jenny Belak garnered All-ACC honors and were named to the NFCA Louisville Slugger All-Mid-Atlantic Region First Team.

In 2007, the Maryland program reaped the full benefits of Watten's recruiting efforts. Nine newcomers joined the team, including five transfers, and Maryland's lineup was transformed into an offensive juggernaut. The Terps shattered previous team records for home runs with 59 and stolen bases with 98 and set numerous individual records. Amber Jackson, a Bethune-Cookman transfer who followed Watten to Maryland, had the greatest offensive season in school history, setting new single-season records for batting average (.408), runs (61), home runs (24), RBIs (56) and walks (55). Jackson led the NCAA in home runs and was a first-team All-America selection by Easton.

During Watten's first season in College Park in 2006, the Terps improved their win total by four victories from the previous season. Belak set a team-record with 70 hits to lead a rejuvenated offense.

"In her first three seasons as the head coach of Maryland softball, Coach Watten has effectively begun to infuse the program with the culture, expectations and student-athletes she believes are necessary to take the Terrapins to the next level of competitive success," said senior associate athletic director Chris Boyer. "We fully expect that Laura will have the Terps battling for ACC Championships and a return to the NCAA Softball Regionals in the very near future, while maintaining the commendable level of academic success her teams have consistently achieved, and providing a first-class collegiate experience for her student-athletes."

Considered one of the rising young coaches in the college game, Watten was fresh off leading Bethune-Cookman College of Daytona Beach, Fla., to the 2005 NCAA Division I Super Regionals when she was tapped to lead the Terps' program. In guiding the Wildcats to a 49-win season – including a regional title over host Florida, South Florida and Central Florida – Watten was named the 2005 National Fastpitch Coaches Association (NFCA) Southeast Region Coach of the Year. Her team ended the 2005 season with a No. 18 final ranking by the NFCA/USA Today.

During Watten's eight years at B-CC, the Wildcats made five NCAA Regional appearances and captured five conference titles. The four-time MEAC coach of the Year posted an eight-year mark of 322-207 and averaged more than 40 wins per season.

B-CC's signature campaign under Watten came in 2005, the 49-win effort highlighted by a title at the NCAA's Gainesville Regional, as well as victories over Florida (twice), Northwestern, Central Florida, South Florida, Virginia Tech, Florida Atlantic and UMass, all of which advanced to the 2005 NCAA Tournament. In total, the Wildcats were 21-17 against teams that finished in the top 100 of the NCAA's RPI (Rating Percentage Index) that year. Statistically in 2005, the Wildcats ranked fourth in the nation in stolen bases per game, 10th in batting average and team ERA, 12th in double plays turned and 25th in scoring.

Off the field, Watten's teams have posted a team GPA of 3.0 or better every year and boast a near-percent graduation rate. Watten's players have been cited as NFCA Academic All-Americans more than 30 times, and 11 Terps have earned ACC All-Academic honors during her tenure in College Park.

Watten is a 1992 graduate of the University of Texas-Arlington, where she played catcher and first base and helped her team to a conference title in 1989 and a pair of top 25 rankings. She was a three-time all-conference selection for the Mavericks and went on to an assistant coaching position at the school. She was named head coach at Bethune-Cookman prior to the 1998 season.

A member of the National Fastpitch Coaches Association, Watten has served on the NCAA South Region ranking committee and the NFCA's Top 25 voting panel. She also has been an active member of the Diversity Committee within the NFCA.

Watten is currently enrolled in graduate school at Texas Women's University, where she is working on a master's degree in kinesiology. A native of Dallas, Texas, Watten resides in Annapolis, Md.. Her parents, Nancy and Paul, are their daughter's biggest fans and are prominent fans at Terp games.

COACHING STAFF

ALISSA SMITH

ASSISTANT COACH
FOURTH SEASON AT MARYLAND
10TH SEASON OVERALL

The Maryland softball program could not function properly without Alissa Smith. Coach Laura Watten's longtime assistant is an essential part of everything Watten does at Maryland, and she will again be key to the team's success this season.

"Her biggest strength is in her recruiting and her ability to relate to the kids on all different levels," Watten said. "She dedicates every bit of her time to these kids. She's valuable because she's in tune with them in ways that others aren't. I think she has a natural gift for that."

Smith does a little bit of everything for the Terrapins, but her primary responsibilities include working with the infielders, recruiting and assisting with the organization and big-picture direction of the softball program. Smith's efforts helped enable the Terps to recruit 10 newcomers (six transfers and four freshmen) entering the 2009 season.

Thanks in a large part to Smith, Maryland welcomed three freshman and three transfers for the 2008 season to help offset a stellar graduating class. Freshman Kerry Hickey developed into a dual-threat both at the plate and on the mound for the Terps, while transfers Sarah Dooley (team-high 16 wins) and Breanna Shaw (12 extra-base hits) emerged as key contributors, as the team posted its third-highest win total in school history.

During 2007, Smith helped Watten recruit and incorporate five transfers into the Maryland lineup and mold those players into an effective offensive force. The Terps set new team records in stolen bases (98) and home runs (59). Smith's infield turned 22 double plays, and transfer Amber Jackson blossomed into one of the best players in the country at shortstop.

Prior to joining the Terps in September 2005, Smith spent six years as an assistant coach under Watten at Bethune-Cookman College in Daytona Beach, Fla. At B-CC, Smith helped lead the Wildcats to five straight Mid-Eastern Athletic Conference (MEAC) championships from 1999-2004 with corresponding NCAA regional appearances. In 2005, the team also won the NCAA Regional at Gainesville, Fla., and advanced to the NCAA Super Regional. B-CC won 49 games and finished No. 18 in the final Top 25 poll of the season. The National Fastpitch Coaches Association (NFCA) awarded Bethune-Cookman the South Region Coaching Staff of the Year in 2005.

"Alissa has absolutely been my closest friend ever," Watten said. "She knows me better than anybody, and and has been one of the key reasons I've been able to adjust, coming from Bethune-Cookman to here, because that was a huge step to make. She's been a big anchor to me emotionally, and she's extremely loyal and committed."

Smith's collegiate career began at Daytona Beach Community College, where she played her freshman and sophomore seasons, earning her team's Gold Glove Award her second year. Smith then transferred to Florida A&M University, where she played second base and shortstop and helped lead the Rattlers claim a MEAC title her senior season. Smith earned her team's defensive player of the year award that year.

Smith worked as a pharmacy technician in Orlando for two years before joining Bethune-Cookman's coaching staff as an assistant to Watten. She received her degree from Phoenix College in 2005.

An Oak Hill, Fla., native, she now lives in Annapolis, Md..

COURTNEY SCOTT

ASSISTANT COACH
FIRST SEASON AT MARYLAND
THIRD SEASON OVERALL

Maryland softball coach Laura Watten announced the addition of Courtney Scott to her staff on Aug. 12, 2008. Scott, whose resume boasts 10 years of softball playing and coaching experience, assumes the role of assistant coach entering the 2009 season.

Scott spent the previous two seasons serving as a graduate assistant softball coach for the University of Oklahoma, which posted a 47-14 record while winning its 2008 NCAA Regional tournament and advancing to the Super Regional. For the Terrapins, Scott's primary responsibilities include overall development and advancement of pitching/catching, with additional shared duties in the areas of hitting development and defensive strategy.

"We have definitely elevated the level of expertise and enthusiasm of our coaching staff with the hiring of Courtney Scott," Watten said. "She brings a great deal of championship experience and leadership, both as a player and assistant coach, that is necessary for the successful development of our pitching/catching staff."

While in Norman, Okla., Scott assisted with all aspects of the Sooners' coaching process, including instruction and development of student-athletes, recruitment, coordination of travel and organization of clinics. The Clovis, Calif., native specialized in working with the Sooners' pitchers and catchers, and briefly served as interim pitching coach.

Prior to arriving at Oklahoma, Scott played professionally for two teams - LeoPalace 21 of the Japan League and NYNJ Juggernaut Professional Softball of National Pro Fastpitch.

An NFCA All-American catcher at the California-Berkley, Scott served as captain and a four-year starter for a team that enjoyed tremendous success. Scott's teams participated in the NCAA Women's College World Series each of her four seasons, finishing as NCAA Champions her junior year (2002).

Scott received a Master of Arts and Human Relations degree from Oklahoma in 2008 and a Bachelor of Arts, American Business & Globalism and American Studies degree from California-Berkeley in 2003.

2008 SEASON REVIEW

The Laura Watten era of Maryland softball has been marked by continual progress and improvement, and the Terrapins' 2008 season proved no exception. During their third year under the guidance of coach Watten and her staff, the Terps soared to new heights, claiming the third-highest victory total in program history and achieving a school-record win streak in the process.

Signs of a successful 2008 campaign emerged in the season's very first game, as Maryland upset 12th-ranked Michigan in extra innings for their first-ever win over the Wolverines. Sparked by that season-opening performance, the Terps soon reeled off a school-record 16 consecutive victorious en route to their best start in the program's 14-year history at 19-1.

With unprecedented success came national attention for the Maryland program. The Terps earned rankings in both the ESPN.com/USA Softball Collegiate Top 25 and the USA Today/NFCA Division I Top 25 for the first time since 1999, and they reached as high as No. 23 in both polls.

Although the Terrapins ultimately experienced growing pains during the ultra-competitive Atlantic Coast Conference portion of their schedule, they finished the year with a respectable record (36-23, 7-14 ACC), and they provided many indications suggesting the squad is destined to capture an NCAA Regional bid sooner rather than later.

The Terps went undefeated in three early-season tournaments during 2008 and recorded at least one victory over six teams that advanced to the NCAA Tournament. Maryland was particuarly dominant in contests played at its own Taylor Stadium, winning more than 75 percent of its home games.

Finishing the season ranked second in the ACC in batting (.268), the Terps proved their offensive outburst a year ago was no fluke. The 2008 squad set a single-season team record for triples (17) and scored at least six runs on 15 different occasions, winning all but one of those games.

JENNY BELAK

A trio of seniors - Jenny Belak, Brittany Bessho and Sarde Stewart - led the way offensively for the Terps in 2008. Belak and Stewart garnered All-ACC honors, while Bessho was named to the All-ACC Tournament squad.

A four-year starter in Maryland's outfield, Belak set team career records for hits (219), stolen bases (60) and triples (12) during the 2008 season. She capped a stellar tenure in College Park by batting .327 with a team-high 67 hits and 39 runs.

Bessho demonstrated tremendous improvement during her final season at Maryland, ranking among the ACC's top-10 in batting (.327), doubles (14) and total bases (95) in 2008. Her productive season enabled her to claim the top career batting average in team history (.315).

Stewart picked up where her sister, former Maryland standout Amber Jackson, left off with her impressive offensive output in 2008. She batted .338 while leading the ACC in RBIs (49) and posting the third-highest home run total (10) in team history.

Veteran pitcher Meredith Nelles and newcomer Sarah Dooley anchored the Terps' rotation in 2008. Despite having her season cut short by injury, Nelles posted a 10-3 record and a team-leading 2.18 ERA to finish her career fifth on Maryland's all-time list with 38 wins. Dooley, a transfer, developed into a workhorse on the mound, leading the team in wins (16) and strikeouts (179), while logging the fourth-most innings in a single season in team history.

Thanks to an exciting offense led by its trio of senior leaders and steady pitching by the likes of Nelles and Dooley, Maryland enjoyed a successful 36-win campaign in 2008, continuing to make strides in Watten's third season.

AMBER JACKSON

When Amber Jackson rewrote the Maryland record books in her lone season in the program in 2007 and moved on to a professional career with the Washington Glory, Terrapin fans wondered what she would do for an encore. After all, she had recorded the greatest offensive season in school history and cemented her status among the Terrapin legends with a pair of All-America selections by Easton and the National Fastpitch Coaches Association (NFCA).

Jackson, however, was just getting started. Playing professionally against the greatest softball talent in America, she proved that she has no equal. The former Maryland shortstop was named Player of the Year for the National Pro Fastpitch (NPF) league after she dominated the league in the summer of 2007 after leaving College Park. Jackson led the league in several offensive categories, including home runs (15), RBIs (38) and slugging percentage (.814). She was also second in the league with a batting average of .372.

Most important, she led the Glory to an NPF League Championship in the team's inaugural season.

Jackson's performance might have shocked a league dominated by former and current Olympians, but it was a familiar site to Coach Laura Watten and Jackson's former Maryland teammates.

"As a both a player and a person, she is someone who is dedicated to being the best she can be, and she never settles for less than perfection," said Watten.

In her lone season at Maryland after transferring from Bethune-Cookman College, Jackson compiled an impressive list of accolades following a standout senior season. She tied for the NCAA lead in home runs, blasting 24 homers in 58 contests an average of 0.41 per game.

In four seasons at the Division I level, she was an All-Americ selection every year. Jackson finished her career as the 12t player in NCAA history to record 300 hits, score 200 runs an steal 100 bases.

Jackson led the Terrapins in 11 offensive categories, and he 2007 campaign set new Maryland single-season records wit 24 home runs, 56 RBIs, and 55 walks. Her .408 batting averag shattered the previous season high of .359, which teammat Jenny Belak set in 2006. Her home run total tied the ACC singl season record.

ACC SOFTBALL

HISTORY OF THE ACC

The Atlantic Coast Conference was founded on May 8, 1953, at the Sedgefield Inn near Greensboro, N.C., with seven charter members - Clemson, Duke, Maryland, North Carolina, North Carolina State, South Carolina and Wake Forest - drawing up the conference bylaws.

The withdrawal of seven schools from the Southern Conference came early on the morning of May 8, 1953, during the Southern Conference's annual spring meeting. On June 14, 1953, the seven members met in Raleigh, N.C., where a set of bylaws was adopted and the name officially became the Atlantic Coast Conference.

Suggestions from fans for the name of the new conference appeared in the region's newspapers prior to the meeting in Raleigh. Some of the names suggested were: Dixie, Mid South, Mid Atlantic, East Coast, Seaboard, Colonial, Tobacco, Blue-Gray, Piedmont, Southern Seven and the Shoreline.

Duke's Eddie Cameron recommended that the name of the conference be the Atlantic Coast Conference, and the motion was passed unanimously. The meeting concluded with each member institution assessed $200 to pay for conference expenses.

On December 4, 1953, conference officials met again at Sedgefield and officially admitted the University of Virginia as the league's eighth member. The first, and only, withdrawal of a school from the ACC came on June 30, 1971, when the University of South Carolina tendered its resignation.

The ACC operated with seven members until April 3, 1978, when the Georgia Institute of Technology was admitted. The Atlanta school had withdrawn from the Southeastern Conference in January of 1964.

The ACC expanded to nine members on July 1, 1991, with the addition of Florida State University.

On June 30, 2003, conference membership increased to 11 with the announcement that the University of Miami and Virginia Tech had accepted invitations to join the league beginning in the 2004-05 year. Boston College was officially welcomed to the league on Oct. 17, 2003 and entered for the 2005-06 year.

THE UNIVERSITY OF MARYLAND

DEEP ROOTS, BROAD IMPACT

Charles Benedict Calvert founded the Maryland Agricultural College in 1856 with the goal of creating a school that would offer outstanding practical knowledge to him and his neighbors and be "an institution superior to any other."

One hundred and fifty years later, the University of Maryland has blossomed from its roots as the state's first agricultural college and one of America's original land grant institutions into a model of the modern research university. It is the state's greatest asset for its economic development and its future, and has made its mark in the nation and the world.

Calvert would be astounded by the depth and breadth of research activities, innovative educational programs, and the single-minded pursuit of excellence that are part of the University of Maryland today. Maryland is ranked 18th among the nation's top public research universities by U.S. News & World Report, with 31 academic programs in the Top 10 and 86 in the Top 25. It is also ranked No. 37th in the world. according to the Institute of Higher Education at at Shanghai's Jiao Tong University.

Maryland is the state's premier center of research and graduate education and the public institution of choice for undergraduate students of exceptional ability and promise. The faculty includes four Nobel laureates, six Pulitzer Prize winners, a three-time Emmy Award winner, more than 40 members of national academies and scores of Fulbright scholars. The university focuses great attention on the highest academic standards, affordability for all qualified students, and a President's Promise program that guarantees opportunity for extraordinary extracurricular and professional experiences for each student.

It has earned a national reputation for its enriched educational experiences for undergraduates, including such widely imitated living/learning programs as College Park Scholars; Gemstone, a unique program that brings teams of students together from across disciplines to tackle specific technical problems; and the Hinman CEO Entrepreneurship Program, sponsored jointly by the A. James Clark School of Engineering and the Robert H. Smith School of Business, and widely recognized as the most successful student entrepreneurship program in the nation.

These programs are guided by outstanding faculty whose accomplishments in research abound. Whether the issue is Mideast peace, cutting-edge research in nanoscience, homeland security or bioscience advances, Maryland faculty are selected for national leadership and are making news. Many recent major faculty initiatives receiving significant external support strengthen our homeland security endeavors—centers for research on agrosecurity and emergency management; intermodal freight transportation security; behavioral and social analyses of terrorism and responses to terrorism; astrophysics and advanced world climate and weather prediction; and a national Center for Advanced Study of Language.

In addition to its academic prowess, Maryland is also home to the Terrapins, whose athletic achievements are a perennial source of pride for nearly 250,000 alumni and residents of the state. In 2005-2006, the Terrapins brought home national championships in four sports — men's soccer, field hockey, competitive cheer and women's basketball — more than any university in the nation.

Whether aiming for the skies or pioneering journalism programs in China, the University of Maryland is surging ahead. Building on the work of outstanding faculty and students, and with the loyal support of alumni and friends, Maryland is moving aggressively and confidently to a decade that will shine brighter than any other in its history.

DR. C.D. MOTE

UNIVERSITY PRESIDENT
CALIFORNIA '59
10TH YEAR

In September 1998, C. D. (Dan) Mote, Jr. began his tenure as President of the University of Maryland and Glenn L. Martin Institute Professor of Engineering. He was recruited to lead the University of Maryland to national eminence under a mandate by the state. Since assuming the presidency, he has encouraged an environment of excellence across the University and given new impetus to the momentum generated by a talented faculty and student body. Under his leadership, academic programs have flourished. In 2005, the University was ranked 18th among public research universities, up from 30th in 1998. President Mote has emphasized broad access to the university's model, enriched undergraduate curriculum programs and launched the Baltimore Incentive Awards Program to recruit and provide full support to high school students of outstanding potential who have overcome extraordinary adversity during their lives.

He has spurred the university to lead the state in the development of its high-tech economy, especially in the information and communication, bioscience and biotechnology, and nano-technology sectors. President Mote has greatly expanded the university's partnerships with corporate and federal laboratories and successfully negotiated to bring to the College Park area the first Science Research Park sponsored by the People's Republic of China. Under his leadership, the University has established a research park, The University of Maryland Enterprise Campus, M-Square, located on a 115-acre site adjacent to the University of Maryland/College Park Metro with 3 million square feet of development potential. Among its first tenants are the Center for Advanced Study of Language, a joint venture of the University and Department of Defense, and the National Oceanic and Atmospheric Administration's new World Weather and Climate Prediction Center.

During President Mote's second year in office, the University began the largest building boom in its history, with more than $100 million in new projects breaking ground that year. New facilities address every aspect of university life, from the arts to recreation to classrooms and laboratories, and, in creative partnership with the private sector, new residential facilities. Highlights of the construction activity include the stunning Clarice Smith Performing Arts Center; the Comcast Center, a state of the art sports complex; a high tech research greenhouse; and new classrooms for chemistry, computer science, business and engineering. President Mote also led the development of a new Facilities Master Plan for development in the next 20 years, which is noted for its emphasis on environmental stewardship.

Dr. Mote is a leader in the national dialogue on higher education and his analyses of shifting funding models have been featured in local and national media. He has testified on major educational issues before Congress, representing the University and higher education associations on the problem of visa barriers for international students and scholars and on deemed export control issues. He has been asked to serve on a high level National Academies Committee appointed at the request of the Senate Energy Subcommittee of the Senate Energy and Natural Resources Committee to identify challenges to United States leadership in key areas of science and technology and to be a member of the Leadership Council of the National Innovation Initiative, an activity of the Council on Competitiveness. He has served as vice chair of the Department of Defense Basic Research Committee, and is a member of the Council of the National Academy of Engineering. In 2004-2005, he served as President of the Atlantic Coast Conference. In its last ranking in 2002, "Washington Business Forward" magazine counted him among the top 20 most influential leaders in the region.

Prior to assuming the Presidency at Maryland, Dr. Mote served on the University of California, Berkeley faculty for 31 years. From 1991 to 1998, he was Vice Chancellor at Berkeley, held an endowed chair in Mechanical Systems and was President of the UC Berkeley Foundation. He led a comprehensive capital campaign for Berkeley that raised $1.4 B. He earlier served as chair of Berkeley's Department of Mechanical Engineering and led the department to its number one ranking in the National Research Council review of graduate program effectiveness.

Dr. Mote's research lies in dynamic systems and biomechanics. Internationally recognized for his research on the dynamics of gyroscopic systems and the biomechanics of snow skiing, he has produced more than 300 publications, holds patents in the U.S., Norway, Finland and Sweden, and has mentored 56 Ph.D. students. He received a B.S., M.S. and Ph.D. in mechanical engineering from the University of California, Berkeley. President Mote has received numerous awards and honors, including the Humboldt Prize awarded by the Federal Republic of Germany. He is a recipient of the Berkeley Citation, an award from the University of California-Berkeley similar to the honorary doctorate, and was named Distinguished Engineering Alumnus. He has received two honorary doctorates. He is a member of the U.S. National Academy of Engineering and serves on its Council, and is a member of the American Academy of Arts and Sciences. He was elected to Honorary Membership in the ASME International, its most distinguished recognition, and is a Fellow of the International Academy of Wood Science, the Acoustical Society of America, and the American Association for the Advancement of Science. In Spring 2005, he was named recipient of the 2005 J. P. Den Hartog award by the ASME International Technical Committee on Vibration and Sound to honor his lifelong contribution to the teaching and/or practice of vibration engineering. In Fall 2005, he received the 2005 Founders Award from the National Academy of Engineering in recognition of his comprehensive body of work on the dynamics of moving flexible structures and for leadership in academia.

He and his wife of over 40 years, Patricia Mote, have two married children, Melissa and Adam, and four grandchildren. Patsy Mote has continued her strong support of the arts and is spokesperson for the Clarice Smith Performing Arts Center and a member of Prince George's County Arts Commission.

DEBORAH A. YOW

DIRECTOR OF ATHLETICS • 15TH YEAR AT MARYLAND

Deborah A. Yow is in the 15th year of her outstanding tenure as director of athletics at the University of Maryland, a tenure that has seen unprecedented success and achievement in Maryland athletics. In Yow's 14-plus years at Maryland, the Terrapins have won a remarkable 18 national championships and graduated student-athletes at an enviable rate as Maryland athletics has soared to sustained new heights among the nation's elite intercollegiate athletic programs.

The comprehensive success of Terrapin athletics under Debbie Yow's leadership is a clear and compelling testimony of her values of excellence, teamwork and accountability.

Likewise, her prior election to the presidency of the National Association of Collegiate Directors of Athletics is an indication of the wide respect with which she is regarded among its 6,100 members representing 1,600 colleges and universities in the U.S. and Canada. She serves as the current President of the national Division I-A Athletic Directors Association and is a member of the Board of Directors of the National Football Foundation, as well as the Board of Directors of USA Football and the NCAA Division I Men's Basketball Academic Enhancement Committee.

She has been honored by Street and Smith's Sports Business Journal as one of the 20 most influential people in intercollegiate athletics, was cited in The Chronicle of Higher Education in October 2007 as one of the "Ten Most Powerful People in College Athletics/The Builder" and she has received the Carl Maddox Sport Management Award presented by the United States Sports Academy for excellence in athletics administration.

Dr. Yow was selected to serve on the U.S. Department of Education's Commission on Opportunities in Athletics to review the status of Federal Title IX regulations. She served as the chair of the Atlantic Coast Conference Committee on Television. The committee is charged with overseeing the league's TV contracts and dealing with issues related to television, including multi-year ACC football and basketball contracts with ABC, ESPN, ESPN2 and syndication entities.

Additionally, she has represented intercollegiate athletics with presentations in a number of prominent settings such as the Harvard University School of Law conference on "Shaping the Future of Collegiate Athletics" and the Street and Smith's Sports Business Journal "National Forum on the Direction of Intercollegiate Athletics" in New York.

Yow, who has served on the NCAA Management Council and the NCAA Division I Budget Committee, is a strong and steady voice on behalf of intercollegiate athletics in America.

Since taking over as AD at Maryland in 1994, she and her staff have:

- Transformed Terrapin athletics into a responsive, goal-oriented organization with 27 sports and more than 700 student-athletes.
- Balanced all 14 of the department's annual budgets (none of the budgets were balanced in the 10 years prior to her arrival). The budget now approaches $60 million annually and the $51 million debt which her administration inherited has been reduced to $7.6 million.
- Greatly enhanced the academic support services provided for student-athletes, with an enviable exhausted eligibility graduation rate of approximately 85 percent for student-athletes at Maryland. Academic outcomes and student-athlete welfare have received consistent and focused attention.
- Led the Terrapins to a national all-sports ranking in the upper 7 percent of all NCAA Division I institutions.
- Significantly expanded marketing and fund-raising efforts on behalf of Terrapin athletics. As a result, private gifts to athletics have increased over 350 percent and corporate sponsorship revenues have increased by over 300 percent during her tenure at Maryland.
- Continued to dramatically improve venues and facilities for the department's 27 teams. The 18,000-seat Comcast Center for men's and women's basketball and other sports that use the facility is a prime example of the remarkable $250 million upgrade of athletic facilities.
- Implemented a strategic management model.
- Developed a comprehensive Internet strategy with management, marketing and fund-raising applications.
- Significantly improved customer care in every area of Maryland athletics.

The most recent achievements of Maryland athletics are exceptional:

- Maryland captured a remarkable seven national championships during the past three seasons.
- In the recent academic year, the Terrapins achieved the highest student-athlete graduation rate in the history of Maryland athletics and had the highest graduation rate of any public institution in the Atlantic Coast Conference.
- Fundraising for Maryland athletics set a historic mark of $24.7 million in 2006-07.
- Maryland was selected by U.S. News & World Report and Sports Illustrated as one of the Top 20 athletic programs in the nation (for overall quality and competitive excellence).
- In 2005-06, Maryland Athletics won the inaugural PRISM Award as the best-managed Division I collegiate athletics program in the nation.
- Maryland was ranked as the sixth-finest athletic program in the nation by the Center for the Study of Intercollegiate Athletics, based on comprehensive criteria such as graduation rates, financial efficiency, equity effectiveness and competitive excellence.
- In men's basketball, the Terps won the Atlantic Coast Conference title over Duke in the championship game in 2004 and won the NCAA National Championship in 2002. Under Coach Gary Williams, the men's basketball team appeared in 11 consecutive NCAA Tournaments and in 12 of the last 15 tournaments.
- Women's basketball won the 2006 NCAA National Championship under head coach Brenda Frese, completing an amazing turnaround that saw the program go from a 10-18 record to a National Championship in four seasons.
- In football, the Terps won the 2001 Atlantic Coast Conference championship and played in the 2002 Orange Bowl, followed that with an 11-win season and a 30-3 victory over the University of Tennessee in the Peach Bowl, again followed by a 10-win season and a 41-7 win over West Virginia in the Gator Bowl on New Year's Day 2004. In the 2006 season, Maryland returned to the bowl scene, where the Terps defeated Purdue, 24-7, in the Champs Sports Bowl, and in 2007 was selected to play Oregon State in the Emerald Bowl in San Francisco. Graduation rates in football are exemplary and the program was recently recognized by the American Football Coaches Association for its academic excellence under Coach Ralph Friedgen.
- Additionally, Maryland is one of only three universities in the nation to win National Championships in men's basketball, women's basketball and football. Stanford and UCLA are the other NCAA Division I institutions to achieve that mark.
- Set an ACC single-game record for women's basketball attendance by drawing 17,950 to a regular-season game at Comcast Center and led the ACC in season attendance.
- Hired Dave Cottle, the sixth-winningest active men's lacrosse coach in the U.S., who guided his team to the NCAA Final Four in three of his first four seasons.
- Field hockey earned National Championships in 2005, 2006 and 2008, and has become a perennial participant in the Final Four in that sport.
- In women's lacrosse, hired Cathy Reese, who was named the 2007 ACC Coach of the Year in her first season as coach of the Terps.
- Men's soccer has appeared in five College Cups in the past seven years and won the 2005 and 2008 NCAA National Championship.
- Football facilities have been significantly enhanced with team house, stadium and practice field upgrades. The Football Academic Center was the first improvement, as it took priority over all other initiatives.
- In 2006-07, 16 Maryland teams competed in postseason play.
- The productivity, morale, and the competitive and academic achievement of Terrapin athletics are exceptional and continue to gain momentum.

Regarding the many achievements of Terrapin athletics over the past 14 years, Yow says, "We are pleased, but we are not satisfied... our vision is to be one of the Top 5 programs in the nation consistently... we see no reason to settle for less."

Yow is known for her goal-oriented and proactive management style. She consistently inspires and challenges those around her to "raise our sights and sharpen our tools... to work hard and work smart... to recognize that our only limitations are those that we place upon ourselves."

As a manager and a leader, she clearly models these principles. She is the only known current AD in NCAA Division I who has hired both the National Coach of the Year in football (while at Maryland) and the National Coach of the Year in men's basketball (while at Saint Louis University). In 2002, she also brought to the University of Maryland Brenda Frese, who at that time was the National Coach of the Year in women's basketball. Four years later, Frese led the Terrapins to the NCAA National Championship at the Women's Final Four in Boston.

Dr. Yow is known as "a coach's A.D.," while also being highly organized and a strategic and proactive leader and administrator. Quite simply, Debbie Yow personifies the relational and management dynamics that are necessary to be an excellent administrator and leader.

A successful former basketball coach, she moved into athletics administration at the University of Florida and the University of North Carolina, Greensboro, followed by a successful tenure as A.D. at Saint Louis University.

She has authored numerous articles and books on athletics management and human behavior, and is a respected leader in intercollegiate athletics in the United States. She holds a bachelor's degree from Elon University, a masters degree from Liberty University and a doctorate (honorus causa) from the U.S. Sports Academy and an honorary doctorate for career achievement from Elon University.

Summing up the entire Maryland athletics program, our athletics director recently stated, "We have the finest student-athletes, coaches, support staff and administrative team in America. It is because of their courage, hard work and cooperative spirit that we now have a strong, viable athletic program. I am immensely proud of each of them. I am equally proud of our Terrapin fans who buy tickets, our Terrapin Club members who faithfully support the Maryland athletic program with their donations for scholarships, and the M Club members who serve and give liberally. We are also blessed with a terrific President, Dr. Dan Mote, who has fostered a mindset of excellence across our institution. He is a strong and balanced advocate for what he calls 'the three A's of the University -- Academics, the Arts and Athletics'. We have a great Terrapin family. That's the foundation for all of our success... and the basis for our bright future. It's a great time to be a Terp."

ACADEMIC SUPPORT AND CAREER DEVELOPMENT

The University of Maryland is committed to providing the highest quality education to all of its students. The Department of Intercollegiate Athletics strives to provide student-athletes excellent opportunities to participate in an intercollegiate athletics program of the highest quality, with the result that their athletics participation becomes an integral and valued component of their total educational experience at the university.

Terrapin student-athletes will find that the same hard work and discipline that has earned them success in athletics competition is also required in the classroom. Balancing the significant time demands and responsibilities required to be a successful student-athlete at the highest collegiate level is no small task. Therefore, as a result of their commitment to representing the university through athletics, Terrapin student-athletes are able to utilize support programs designed to meet their specific needs.

Led by associate athletics director Anton Goff, the mission of the Academic Support and Career Development Unit (ASCDU) is to provide quality developmental programs and need-based services that will enhance academic progress, facilitate career development, and encourage the psychosocial growth of all UM student-athletes. Krista Chmielewski works with the Maryland softball team.

The Gossett Academic Support and Career Development Center for Terrapin student-athletes, named for long-time Terp supporters Barry and Mary Gossett, is located in the Comcast Center. It features a study center that includes 25 desktop computers, a tutoring center, a classroom, a CHAMPS/Life Skills resource room and individual offices for professional academic counselors, a director of enrichment programs, an assistant program coordinator and a graduate assistant. In addition, a new academic wing was added to the Gossett football team house recently. It features offices for two counselors, a program coordinator and three learning specialists; as well as a quiet study area, 29-desk computer lab, classroom, tutor rooms and classroom/lab for the individualized learning program.

Academic courses, programs and services offered by ASCDU include the following:

- Student-athlete orientation
- Academic counseling
- NCAA academic eligibility monitoring
- Academic enrichment and career development presentations and workshops
- Accredited tutorial support
- Individualized learning program
- EDCP 108-K (College learning strategies and skills)
- EDCP 108-M (Math learning strategies and skills)
- UNIV 100 (First-year transitions to the university)

MARYLAND GAMEPLAN

The Maryland Gameplan is intended to assist graduating Terrapin student-athletes as they begin the job search process. It is distributed to more than 500 corporations and businesses across the country, in addition to being featured on the M Club website. Prospective employers are introduced to our graduating student-athletes with resume information relative to academic, career and personal achievements. The Maryland Gameplan directory is produced annually in collaboration with the M Club.

CAREER NETWORKING NIGHT

Because career development is an ongoing process, ASCDU provides a variety of programs for student-athletes throughout the year. Professional assistance with resume- writing, interviewing skills, graduate school search and job search is readily available to all student-athletes. During the spring semester ASCDU hosts the Career Networking Night, where student-athletes can learn about career interests and career planning. Unlike typical "job fairs," the purpose of this program is to allow student-athletes to explore multiple career opportunities by speaking directly to individuals in their chosen areas of interest. Employers at the Career Networking Night recognize the marketable qualities student-athletes have gained through athletic participation. Student-athletes learn about opportunities for internships and full-time jobs.

STUDENT-ATHLETE ADVISORY COMMITTEE

The Student-Athlete Advisory Committee (S.A.A.C.) plays an important role in the Department of Intercollegiate Athletics. It consists of two representatives from each varsity sport and meets on a regular basis with representatives from the athletic administration. The S.A.A.C. mission is to enhance the total student-athlete experience by developing leadership skills, promoting student-athlete welfare and fostering a positive student-athlete image on the Maryland campus, local area and nationally.

CHAMPS/LIFE SKILLS PROGRAMS

ASCDU houses the NCAA's (National Collegiate Athletic Association) CHAMPS/Life Skills Program. The ASCDU staff, in collaboration with various other Department of Intercollegiate Athletics' units and campus resources, strives to provide a systematic personal development program designed to reach each student-athlete based on his or her individual needs. The focus of the program is on the individual academically, athletically and emotionally, and on the changing needs and skills of that individual in the years during college and after graduation. The menu of presentations, workshops and seminars is a comprehensive and balanced system of "life learning" programs promoted for use by each varsity sport team.

Highlights of the CHAMPS/Life Skills Programs:

- Support efforts of every student-athlete toward intellectual development and graduation
- Use athletics as preparation for success in life
- Meet the changing needs of student-athletes
- Promote respect for diversity among student-athletes
- Enhance interpersonal relationships in the lives of student-athletes
- Assist student-athletes in building positive self-esteem
- Enable student-athletes to make meaningful contributions to their communities
- Promote ownership by the student-athletes of their academic, athletic, personal and social responsibilities
- Enhance partnerships between the NCAA, member institutions and their communities for the purpose of education
- Encourage the development of leadership skills

ACADEMIC SUPPORT FOR RETURNING ATHLETES PROGRAM

The Academic Support for Returning Athletes Program was created in 1986 to support the academic efforts of former varsity student-athletes at the University of Maryland, College Park. In 1989, ASRAP was assigned by the President's Office to the Academic Achievements Program and enrolled 40 students that year. As a member of the National Consortium for Academics and Sports (NCAS), the University of Maryland is committed to assisting its former athletes with degree completion. A key component of the program is community outreach. Each returning student completes a "workship" that allows the cost of tuition and fees to be exchanged for community services with youth. In 2002, ASRAP moved into the ASCDU.
